

Fusion Phishing Overview

FusionPhish

Building Real Cyber Awareness, One Click at a Time

Most cyber breaches start with a single click on a link that looks safe, but isn't. In fact, more than two-thirds of all successful cyberattacks begin with phishing. This makes human behavior the top source of risk in most organizations. Annual training is required in many sectors, but it rarely changes behavior. FusionPhish does.

FusionPhish is designed to reshape behavior, not satisfy compliance. It turns awareness into a daily habit, giving employees consistent exposure to realistic phishing emails in their everyday environment. No videos. No quizzes. Just quick, natural interactions that help prevent real mistakes.

How It Works

Daily Simulations

- Each day, any employee might receive a real-world phishing simulation. They won't know it's a test, and that's exactly the point.

Smart Discovery

- We identify employee email addresses using the same public web sources attackers do, ensuring realistic, high-impact simulations. Or we can work from a list you provide

Performance Insights

- Monthly reports in FusionHub help leadership track performance, recognize high performers, and coach employees who need more support.
